By arrangement with the other merchants, our display this season will consist of, and be confined to, Untrimmed and Trimmed Millinery, Millinery Requisites, and High Class Novelties.

Our stock throughout every department is now complete,
the largest and most complete we have ever presented for your inspection, and the values in every line unprecedented.

You all know the character of our stock, and we have only to say that every feature of excellence and pre-eminence for which it has been noted in the past is fully maintained this season.

Our large European importations which have arrived, and those now in transit, give us the advantage of exclusive styles,
and

THE VALUES ARE BEYOND COMPETITION.

We have no room for enumeration, and can only ask your kind inspection, whether you buy or not.

We know by actual comparison that some lines which we have imported are 25 per cent. less price than some wholesale houses in Canada ask for them.

FASHIONABLE MILLINERY.

Miss Warton will hold her spring millinery opening on Saturday, April 6th. She has made full preparation for the event and her room on St. George street presents a most attractive appearance, and her fair larger display of fashionable millinery.
Picturesque and for the most part remarkably becoming are the new hats and bonnets displayed. The spring and summer of eighteen hundred and ninety, but the brims are hundreds and hundreds of styles and promise to attract the most attention. Square low crowns with very little brim at the back and disappearing fronts are popular. Some of these have perfectly flat brims, others have three or four deep scallopes. There is but little variation in the shape and size of the crowns of ordinary hats, but the brims are into eccentricities too numerous to count.
Bonnets are shown in a very small class, shapes and colors are smaller than formerly; indeed it has been remarked that the larger the hats, the smaller the bonnets.

The most notable feature of the new styles is the use of feathers and ribbons. The straws. There are very wide brimmed hats with crowns of fine chip and brims of alternate rows of lace and plain braid, others of fancy straw and mixtures of plain and fancy braids.

There are perfectly plain chip, and fine braids, but the fancy (if the brims) so decidedly to favor fancy braids. The plain styles seem quite ordinary and old-fashioned. Among the novelties are crowns of wire, both fancy and plain. They are used for lace bonnets and hats and promise to be very popular.

There is very little that is new in trimmings. Feathers and ribbons are established favorites. Flowers for trimming are used in profusion. The rose is again the favorite flower for millinery use. Next in order of popularity are poppies, chrysanthemums, lilies of the valley, lilacs, tulips, pond lilies,
forget-me-nots and scores of blossoms large and small.

Lace, tulle, net, gold and jet lace, crepe, ribbons and velvets are the most favored of
the season's trimmings.
All the colors that have been in vogue are still noted, and a few new ones are added.
Handsome gold laces are much used and many tiques and bonnets have the crown entirely of gold lace.

Laces in all styles and varieties will be used. Flowers will decorate most all hats and never was nature more closely imitated.

We find the fancy ribbons two faced satin ribbon. French crepe, gold faced and beautiful jets are extensively employed to finish and brighten the hat or bonnet.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The total number killed by the Louisville tornado is 93.

At Dresden Bismarck announced that his resignation was not of his seeking.

Mr. W. G. Forster, M.P. for Ottawa, died Tuesday morning at the Capital.

The Paris Figaro says Queen Victoria will meet Emperor William at Darmstadt.

Sixty cars loaded with ice from Lake Champlain are passing through Troy, N. Y., every day.

It is estimated there has been a decrease of 1,500,000 in the United States public debt since March 1st.

Six hundred meetings of workmen were held through Austria on May 1st to promote the night hour law movement.

Phileas Fogg, the author of Roy, of St. Thomas, Montserrat, Quebec, was sentenced to be hanged on the 10th of May.

A national monument to Bismarck will be erected at Berlin. The Committee will ask the Kaiser to become patron of the undertaking.

Throughout Northern New York and Vermont snow is doing its worst this during the winter. In some places it is 12 inches in depth.

Pickthall, the Woodstock man, has returned to the town and explained his ill-appearance as the result of an impulse quickness by liquor.

VESSEL NOTES.

The steamers of the Deseronto Navigation Company have all undergone extensive repairs
during the past winter, and will be ready to go on their routes immediately after the opening of navigation. The steamer Resolute, which has been up on the marine railway all winter,
has been completely overhauled in every part.
The engines have been thoroughly gone over,
and new steam bearings have been supplied.
She has been painted, and will leave port with all the outfit of a first class vessel. The Resolute will be commanded again by that able officer, Capt. John Gowan, with Thomas Hall, mate, and John Taylor, chief engineer.
The Resolute will make her first trip to Charlotte with a cargo of ice.

The Reliance has been well fitted out, and is loaded with ice and ready to start as soon as the bay is clear. Capt. Barclay has retired to engage in other business, and Capt. James Dougherty will command this fine steamer.

The Reliance will be accompanied by John Taylor and Jas. Noble, first and second engineer.

The old reliable Armenia will play on her old route to Kingston, Brockville and other ports. The veteran and popular navigator, Capt. S. Anderson, will again pace her quarter deck; John Scott, mate, and John Gowan, second engineer.

The Deseronto will play on her old route from Napanee to Picton. Capt. Skillen will be again at his post, with Thos. O'Neill engineer.

The Ella Ross takes the Picton and Trenton route; John McCall is engineer, and Mr. W.
W. Pomeroy is the captain.

The steam barge Nile has been up on the dry dock, and has been very extensively repaired. Capt. W. J. Daly will command this vessel, with M. Quigley engineer.

The flag of Admiral Maloney will float
from the main mast of the steamer Ripple.
The Ripple will be commanded by Capt. Joseph Holte,
with J. Houlie chief engineer.

Capt. John Rowe will command the tug Rescue, and M. McCall will be engineer.

SUGAR SOCIAL.

The sugar social held in the Methodist church on the evening of Thursday, March 27th, proved a most enjoyable event. There was a large attendance, and the audience were more than repaid by the excellence of the programme. The sugar social was pronounced the best ever distributed at such an event in Deseronto, and certainly reflected credit on the committee. The programme was skillfully manipulated. Prof. Shepard delighted the audience and displayed great elocutionary attainments. Mr. H. Aylsworth was in his best form. The choir sang themselves, and were most deservedly praised. The receipts amounted to $60; net proceeds $45.

Hearty thanks are tendered to Rev.
A. Campbell, who so ably filled the chair,
and to Prof. Shepard, Mr. H. Aylsworth,
the choir and Mr. J. L. Ferguson.

THE PROGRAMME.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

On Sunday last (Easter Sunday) the Rector preached at the morning service, and the assistant at the evening.

The attention of the congregation was called to the Church's requirement in the Prayer Book Rubric at the end of the office of Holy Communion Unit. "Every parishioner shall communicate at the least three times in the year of which Easter be one," in order that all may have an opportunity of following this direction, notice was given of two celebrations of the H.C. on that day at 8:15 a.m.
and at the mid-day service.

The same rubric refers also to the payment of all church dues at Easter. The congregation was consequently reminded that with next Sunday the end of another financial Church year will have been reached, and the expectation of the church is that every one who is present at the annual Easter Monday meeting may find themselves relieved in full with payment of their pledged subscription to Easter Day (inclusive).

They were requested to unite in making next Sunday's collection a liberal one.

Daily morning and evening service is being during this Holy Week.

On Good Friday the service will be in the church at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The morning collection (as usual) for the Evangelization of the Jews.

Agape music will be rendered on Easter. In the evening a very beautiful service of sacred song, illustrating the Resurrection of Christ will be given.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies Aid Society, the successful work of the past year was gratefully acknowledged. The new officers elected are President, Mrs. Stanton;
Vice President, Mrs. McCullough; Secy, Miss Demore; Treasurer, Miss Oliver.

If you could keep you awake and restless by night, take Ayer's Peppermint Cure.
It cures indigestion, restores the system,
allays inflammation, heals the pulmonary cancer, induces sleep, and restores health.

TRAFFORD.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Owing to bad roads and stormy weather I ran short of news, unless I made some up about that will not do.

Recently at our Township elections Mr.
Dennis Kearns was elected councillor and then was disqualified, but now he is duly and truly qualified and tomorrow (Tuesday) is the great contest between him and Mr. Michael York.
There is quite an excitement to see which will win the Township office.

All the young men around here are leaving home some going to drive the river and more to work on the railroad.

Miss Martha Ann Card, after a brief illness of a gripe and bronchitis passed away very quietly in her reward on last Wednesday.
She was a young lady of a mild and amiable disposition and had won the esteem of her associates. Her friends have the sympathy of all.

Our school opens next Monday. Miss Adair of Tanworth, is engaged as teacher.

There is a great number of people sick
around here yet, from the effects of the gripe.
M. Whelan is very low yet, he has not been
as far as his barn in two months.

We have a Pigeon from our assessor Mr.
Hiram Keech of Tanworth to-day.

Meers Aylsworth and Fowles both sing at the Citizens' Band Concert.

TYNDINAGA RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Excitement runs high on the agency question which may not be vacant for years. Take care of our communication boys, you may require it all later on.

Young Dan Marcell had an eye to business when in the store on Friday last he came around here yet, from the effects of the gripe.
M. Whelan is very low yet, he has not been
as far as his barn in two months.

We have a Pigeon from our assessor Mr.
Hiram Keech of Tanworth to-day.

There are a number of applicants for the position of section of Christ Church which will be disposed of for the year after the vestry meeting on Monday next.

John Skirwa and family have been visiting at the home of Mr. D. B. Solmes for a few days of absence of several years. John is still an athlete and occasionally travels with a circus on the other side of the line.

Concert and Sugar Social in Union Hall, on Friday 11th inst., 15 cents.

LONSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Friday, March 28th, we had the most recent snowstorm of the season, showing all the signs of a hard winter. It has continued clear and bright since and the snow is fast disappearing, making the roads very bad.

Many large flocks of wild geese have been seen flying over our village very low, but none of our sportsmen had rifle in hand at the right time.

Mr. M. C. Hamilton has closed business here and moved to Havelock on the C. P. R.
The stone store is now unoccupied and ready for any one who may desire to take it.

Mr. Robert Winters, after visiting his daughters in the busy town of Deseronto for a few weeks, has returned home.

From a number of reports it is expected there will be a wedding in our town in a few days.
Mrs. Walter Casey made her husband the happy recipient of a fine robust son on Wednesday morning, 30th inst. He appears much elated, and is in hopes he will not have to be at the expense of hiring a man for the summer.

SOLMESVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Cook, of Louisville, N. Y., was the guest of Mr. D. B. Solmes for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson Black were visiting at Stock for a few days last week.

Mr. R. A. Brooks and his men are at work upon the timber for his new barn.

Miss Mabel Boyle, of Picton, spent a few days at Mr. John Lambert's this past week.

Mr. Frank Solmes, heretofore delayed, expects to leave for London this month to take up his residence in Tacoma, Washington state.

People generally have been taking advantage of this late fall of snow in taking drawing out sundry loads of wood which had been left.

Mrs. Wm. Robinson accidentally slipped one day last week and had the misfortune to break her leg, but under the care of Dr.
Cryon is progressing favorably.

Mr. Grant Norton is at present staying at
Mr. John Lambert's.

Since the fire has started running people on this side the bay are attending Deseronto market.

Pike fishing has commenced.

Crows are very plentiful this spring. D. Kearns was elected councillor for Sheffield by a majority of 57.

The Big Mill will probably start next Monday, if the ice in the pond breaks up by that time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Rathbun and Miss Mabel McMurich leave to day for a trip to New York, etc.

No talking and whispering please during the different parts of the performance next Tuesday evening.

All the butchers are preparing for a grand display to morrow. Their shops will be well decorated.

Mr. A. A. Richardson, of the Big Store, is in Toronto this week making big purchases for the spring trade.

Mr. W. V. Carter has purchased from T. N. Kupper, a house in Block M, and situated on West Thomas street.

The snow storm of last Thursday night and Friday was quite severe and the fall of snow was heavy. It has nearly all disappeared.

A fireman of the B. of Q. Ry. was squeezed between two cars on Tuesday morning. He was able to resume duties the next day.

The club singing of Miss Minnie Garvey to the musical accompaniment of the band will be a most pleasing feature of the entertainment next Tuesday evening. Do not fail to see it.

The Gladstonians gained a notable victory on Wednesday by carrying the royal burgh of Windsor by a majority of 400. At the general election the Unionists carried Windsor without opposition.

Inspector Johnston paid a visit to the public school yesterday and inspected the departments taught by Miss Cook and Miss Clarke. He expressed himself as very well pleased with both departments.

E. B. Cook, of Deseronto, and Messrs. T. Lawrence, Jos. Lally, Robt. McFarlane, Thos. McGurn and John C. Milligan, of Tyndinago, are making the grand jury at the county assizes next week.

Mr. John McCullough now finds that his hog raising scheme which he inaugurated on his farm last year was a profitable venture, all kinds of hog products having increased in value as a result of the new tariff.

Capt. John Rowe, the only orthodox haribarger of spring, arrived in town this week, and yesterday commenced his campaign for the senate by taking a spin about the harbor with the tug Rescue.

The Citizens' Band paid a kindly compliment to their old leader, Mr. N. V. Mallory, by turning out and playing a number of selections from the repertoire of the concert opened and by attending the entertainment in a body.

Mr. R. Rayburn, of the Deseronto Flour Mills, has been attending the meeting of the Deseronto Farmers' Association, which was held during the past week. The meeting was called to discuss the state of trade and the new tariff regulations.

M. Salvinia and a band of thirty Italians arrived in town on Friday morning for the Rathbun Company. The advent of these natives of sunny Italy caused considerable excitement. They are housed on East Thomas street. Verily, this is a cosmopolitan city.

A petition which was very generously signed by the Indians of the Reserve has been forwarded to the Department at Ottawa praying that in case of Mr. Hill's resignation the agency of Tyndinago Reserve, Mr. W. G. Egar, of Deseronto, may be appointed to the position.

Postmasters have been requested not to issue money orders in favour of the Louisiana State Lottery for the franchise lottery or its known agent, as the United States postal department has instructed all their post offices not to pay any money orders in their favour. This is a step in the right direction.

According to the government reports thirteen aged and infirm were cared for at the Belleville Home for the friendless last year. Two were discharged, two died and nine were in residence on the date of the inspector's last visit. The receipts for the year were $748.45, and the disbursements $283.78.

The frosts which prevailed every night during the past week and the cold north west wind have preserved the ice to the bay, and the bridge still holds between the shipyard and the mouth of the Napanee River. Big Bay is solid, and no doubt below Thompson's Point also holds firm. Pictou harbor is not yet open. The bay is open from Belleville to Redversville.

Yesterday the weather was rainy, and the sun's rays must have told on the ice.

The Minister of Finance brought down his budget on the 7th inst. Several important changes have been made in the tariff, the principal being the increase of the duties on flour, hop products, beef, small fruits, etc. The usual debate has followed.

The Minister for Lands has attracted considerable attention and that officer has acknowledged the offence and promised to pay Brenner for the losted pelt. The house has adjourned until next Tuesday.

Wesley Bullen, of Belleville, has entered a suit against Police Commissioner McCullough and Constable Gannon to recover fees and costs which he claims were illegally imposed upon him for selling liquor to Indians. He contends that as the offence was committed in the Belleville where there is no jurisdiction, the police commissioner has no jurisdiction. The case comes up for trial at Belleville on the 11th inst. Mr. E. R. Porter for the plaintiff, Mr. Bedford for the defendant.

There is a general feeling of angry dissatisfaction in town at the inaction exhibited by the Mohawk Band in reference to putting the large block west of town on the market for building purposes. The growth of the town is retarded and the property of the district, including the reserves, is lessened by the wretched policy of the Indian Council.

A piece of land on the Reserve would be of great value to the residents of Deseronto. Fifty houses would be erected this summer if the residents of the reserve were amenable to reason. The town itself is blameable to a great extent for not pushing this matter to an issue.

Concert and Sugar Social Deseronto Club, Royal Templars, will hold a concert and sugar social on the evening of Friday, 11th inst. The programme will comprise all previous efforts. Not only will the music be well distributed, but there will be four amusing and instructive dialogues and a pantomime, "The Hungry Chinee." There will be two gossamer tableaux and several solo recitations, &c. The councils of Shanownville and Napanee will assist. The performance will commence at 7:30 sharp. All the instruction and fun can be secured for 15 cents the price of a ticket.

Shanownville Fair.

The Board of Directors of the Tyndinago Agricultural Society at a meeting held on Tuesday decided to hold the annual exhibition at Shanownville on Wednesday, Oct 1st, 1890.

Methodist Church.

A very interesting service of song will be rendered at the evening service in the Methodist church next Sabbath. The collections at both services on that day will be in aid of Conference Claims and Superannuation.

Church of the Redeemer.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at the morning service in the Church of the Redeemer next Sabbath, 9th inst. Special services were held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. A. A. Young, of Napanee, will conduct the usual preparatory service this (Friday) evening at 7:30 p. m. On Sabbath evening a special service of song "King Forever" will be rendered. All are cordially invited.

Rifle Match.

On Friday, March 21st, a number of our local riflemen indulged in a friendly shooting match, the two teams being captained by M. Woodcock and Wm. Powles, respectively. The range was 200 yards. Woodcock's team won by 14 points. The score is as follows:—M. Woodcock 19, Thos. Gould 16, E. S. Glasford 10, P. McCann 15, total 60; W. Powles 5, J. G. Hamilton 12, W. Stuart 14, J. Stuart 12, total 46.

Canoe and Boating Club.

The annual meeting of the Deseronto Canoe and Boating Club was held last Friday evening. There was a good attendance. Capt. F. S. Rathbun presided. Purser, Namphair read the minutes of the preceding meeting which were approved. The reports showed the financial condition and a snug surplus in the treasury. After discussion it was agreed to take steps toward the erection of a club house and a committee was appointed to make a canvass of the membership to discover what amount of stock would be subscribed towards this undertaking, and report at an early meeting.

Military Opening.

Mrs. Dalton, as will be seen by advt., announces her spring millinery opening which will be held on Saturday, 9th, and the following week. A visit to her rooms show that her display of fashionable millinery is a large and elegant one, including those of former years. All the latest styles and novelties may be inspected. Mrs. Dalton has also received heavy importations of lace trimmings of the most fashionable kind, a very rare collection indeed. She extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of Deseronto and the district.

Band Concert.

The programme for the concert and entertainment under the auspices of the Citizens' Band to be held in Union Hall, next Tuesday evening, 8th inst., has been issued. The music to be treated is of a most interesting and popular character. All the best available talent has been secured and success is placed beyond question. The programme is so arranged as to treat the audience in a most agreeable manner. It is gratifying to learn that the tickets, which are only 25 cents, are selling fast. You can reserve your seats at Egar and Malley's, and this, if you are wise, should be done to-day or to-morrow.

The Big Drum.

Capt. Wm. Cardill, who has been suffering from the effects of a grippe has gone for a few weeks to Toronto to enjoy a well earned rest, and Lieut. Wm. Davidson is now in command of the local corps of the Salvation Army. The meetings are always interesting and the attendance is increasing. Interesting children's meetings are held on Thursday at 4:30 p. m. Saturday at 3 p. m. and Sunday at 10 a. m. A large number of children attend all these assemblies. Meetings will be held in the barracks to-day, Friday, at 3 and 8 p. m., to which all are invited. The meetings have been very much troubled of late until Wednesday evening when three or four young rascals, who should long since have been run out, took to the drums and beat the barracks. A complaint will be lodged and the magistrate will make an example of these hoodlums.

Tuesday Night's Concert.

The concert held under the auspices of the N. V. Mallory and family, assisted by Miss Lottie Shaw and Mr. Jas. Balfour, for the purpose of raising a fund for the removal of Deseronto, was a most successful one. The various selections by the Mallory family were all well rendered, and proved that this gifted family have been giving constant attention to the divine art since their removal from Deseronto. Messrs. N. V. Mallory and C. Mallory maintained their reputation on the concert, and Mr. T. Mallory's trombone solos were much appreciated. A piano and violin duo by Miss Mallory and Mr. C. Mallory was well executed. The very artistic and beautiful vocal solos by Miss Shaw were loudly applauded. Miss Shaw delighted the audience by her vocal solos, which were given with great skill and accompanied by piano and violin. It is not improbable that Deseronto may be favored again by a visit from this excellent company.

Methodist Sunday School.

The regular quarterly review was held in the Methodist Sabbath School last Sunday, the exercises being of a very interesting character. The following is a brief summary of the work of the quarter by this flourishing school:—Number of verses learned, 10,028; number of teachers, 22; other workers, 5; total membership, 429; collections for school purposes, $41.08; S. Aid and Extension Fund, $3.44. On the 1st Sunday in January the members of the school promised to give in their power to raise the membership to 400 by Christmas, 1890. As an inducement to greater exertion the school offered a prize to the person who should bring the greatest number of pupils during the quarter. This was awarded to Mrs. E. W. Washburn, who succeeded in bringing in twenty two new scholars. Eighty new pupils were enrolled during three months. Many good members believe that the membership will be 500 by next Christmas. Rev. A. Campbell and Supt. Richardson must be congratulated on this success.

Do not fail to witness the grand spectacular scenes in the two tableaux at Union Hall, Friday 11th inst.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS:—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Diphtheria, whooping cough, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces inflammation, and gives rest and energy to the system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

The selections by the Citizens' Band next Tuesday evening will show what progress has been made during the past winter by that organization.

KINGSFORD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

[The following for last week.]

Mr. Charles Bennett of Road has rented Mr. Daniel Griffin's farm 5th con., [Elyndale] for a term of five years and moved this week.

Mr. Daniel Griffin and his brothers and Miss Mary Griffin left for Belleville on Tuesday last.

Mr. William Mitchell McCullough left for Havelock last week.

A heavy snowstorm set in from the east, on Friday, with falling snow on Saturday. The weather has again turned mild.

The lawsuit of McGinness and Asselstine, arising out of the recent runaway of Mr. Asselstine's team at Robin bridge has been settled. Mr. Asselstine paying $100 for damages.

Mrs. Reuben Schermerhorn still continues very ill.

Next Monday the Richmond council hold their regular meeting.

Letters have lately been received from Mr. John Nelson Hewitt, who resides near Carman, Manitoba.

He owns 160 acres of land there, which he has prepared a crop this spring and upon which he is now erecting buildings.

Mr. William Sampson has returned from Waterton, N. B., on a visit to the homestead.

The new American Hotel, which was recently opened, is causing considerable interest in the community, especially among the farmers.

Services in the churches on Easter Sunday: St. Patrick's, 9:30; St. Jude's, 2:30.

Mr. Samuel Anderson is very low.

The Literary Society at Elyndale will realize $25 by a Maple Sugar Social.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Rea and Mr. James O'Rea left for Battle Creek, Michigan, on Tuesday, where they intend to make their future home.

Mr. Thomas Duford and family and Mr. Haynes and family, of Selby, have moved on the McGreer property, known as the Empey Hill farm. Mr. James Brickley of Marysville, has been lately visiting our village and some one hopes to see him again.

Mr. Albert Wagner of Empey Hill, is very low and not expected to recover.

Miss Jennie McManis of Alton is visiting her sister Mrs. Thomas F. Secomb.

Mrs. James Jernan, of Marysville, has returned home.

Mr. Oliver Krane, who has for some time been troubled with a cancer on his lower lip, had it removed last week, in Belleville. The operation was skillfully performed by Dr. Gibson, assisted by Mr. Murphy and Dr. Clinton.

Mr. T. F. Hodge, agent for James Richardson & Sons, Kingston, has bought a large quantity of all kinds of grain here this winter and also bought Mr. Wagoner's property. Keen opposition has been kept up between these two rival firms in the grain trade to the benefit of the farmers of the vicinity.

On Tuesday, April 9, a lively election took place here for the choosing of a councilman. Messrs. Kearns and York were the candidates. Excitement ran high all the day and when about seven o'clock news was received that Kearns was elected the boys of the village gave vent to their feelings by a large bonfire composed of coal and other material amounting to about twenty five dollars.

The Rathbun Company have arranged to sell salt, flour, lumber, coal &c., through their agent J. M. Kenney.

Miss Mary Campbell and Miss Evelyn Nevills, who have been visiting friends in this vicinity, have returned home to Napanee.

Miss Harriette Stewart, of Clinton, spent a few days visiting friends here.

Mrs. N. Phelan visited Kingston last week. The family of Mr. Hugh McKivier, section foreman, have moved here.

Mr. Palmer is making preparations to improve "Lake View" hotel.

There has been considerable and some of the boys occasionally catch a pike.

TYNDINAGUA RESERVE

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Mohawks have land for sale north of the Tyndinagua reserve. The land is, and until that is sold, are not prepared to code the block west. The "angry disgust" of the inhabitants will not hasten the matter; though even an Indian will not accomplish anything.

The Good Friday services were well attended at both churches.

As we said last week, there is no need for so much worry about the agency. Mr. Hill is preparing his corn ground, and will not leave at the earliest until after the old Mohawk festival held in the fall, known as the "Corn Dance."

Earlier day services were bright and hearty.

The Rev. A. L. Geen kindly assisted the missionary, who is still suffering from bronchitis. The altar at Christ church was beautifully adorned with cut flowers. There were eighty-one communicants at the celebration.

The chance of All Saints' church was decorated with buns and appropriate texts.

A fee of three dollars has been charged for the burial of whites in Christ Church Cemetery. A man on the Slush Road buried his child in August last now refuses to pay the fee. Further notice of this delinquent will be taken in a short time.

A general council was held on Wednesday to discuss making a grant for the improvement of the old York Road, also to take into consideration the building of a vault in a central part of the Reserve. Further report next week.

Twenty-five persons attended the Easter Monday service held in the parish church. The finances were in a flourishing condition, a large balance being on hand from the previous year.

Alexander Loft and William G. Maracle are the church wardens of Christ church for the current year. The Rev. A. L. Geen and Francis Clats of All Saints' church. Chief Solomon Loft, who had served the parish for three years, was elected to the vacant place.

Chief Kogitahgah has sent a friend his card, from which we learn he has entered into partnership with another person, "Neoklesia," in the only genuine medicine man living of

WESTBROOK.

The saw mill which has stood so long silent, is again in operation, and giving the village the appearance of a busy place, and affords considerable sport for the young boys of the vicinity.

The sugar festival held in the C. M. church on Tuesday, 1st inst., was largely attended, over $20 being realized.

Mrs. H. Bell is very sick, and very little hope is entertained of her recovery.

William Wilborne, of Bay Shore, was calling on Sunday last in this vicinity.

Miss Doretta Telgman and Miss McDonald, spent last week at Maple Lawn.

Sidney Alport and his sister Mary have gone to Rochester to reside permanently.

Visitors—Mr. Mahoney, from Wolfe Island; Miss Newman, of Kingston; Mr. Johnson, Odessa.

THE MOHAWK RESERVE EASTER VESTRY MEETING.

The Annual Vestry Meeting was held on Easter Monday morning at Christ Church. There were 25 members present. At 10:30 the Missionary opened the meeting with prayer, after which the business of the day was commenced by appointing John A. Loft secretary. The minutes of last year's meeting were approved and adopted. The report of the children was very satisfactory, showing a large balance in the hands of the retiring church wardens who were congratulated on the state of the finances. It has been the rule of the missionary to change every practicable the warden every year in order to create an interest in church work. Alexander Loft, of the children, was appointed Warden of Christ Church and Dowd of All Saints by the Incumbent, William George Maracle and Francis Clats were elected by the Vestry, Warden of Christ Church and All Saints respectively.

Considerable indignation was expressed at the non payment of a small burial fee of three dollars by a white man residing on the Reserve. There being a lay delegate to appoint in place of Chief Solomon Loft whose term of office terminated, he was re-elected for three years. The delegate to the Diocesan Synod are: Solomon Loft for three years; Jacob B. Brant for two years and Sampson Green for one year. After a pleasant and harmonious talk over the affairs of the church on the Reserve the meeting was closed with prayer at 1:15; this terminated the Easter Vestry of 1890 on the Tyndinagua Reservation.

DYNAMITERS AT WORK.

BELEVEILLE, April 8.—Particulars were to-day received of a villainous act which was perpetrated on Saturday night at Downey's Rapids, in the township of Hungerford, near the lake. There is a grist mill at the place, which George McIntyre is lessee and is his own mill, and near which he has a frame house where he lives with his wife and seven children. At about 9:30 on the night in question, shortly after the family had retired to bed, they were startled by a loud report, and immediately a great noise was heard in a most violent manner. Some of the occupants were thrown from their beds, and the furniture was tossed about in all directions. On going to investigate, Mr. McIntyre found that a cartridge of dynamite or some other explosive had been exploded under one end of the house, which place the building was demolished and the timbers scattered about. Strangely, and most fortunately, not one of the nine inmates of the dwelling were hurt or injured. It is reported that a man was seen to run away from the vicinity of the building immediately after the explosion. An investigation will be held before the local magistrate at Tweed.

INITIATING A PRINCE.

The Abend Post, a leading German newspaper of Philadelphia, Penn., gives an interesting account of the ceremony on the occasion of the introduction of Prince Frederick Leopold in the Masonic Order. A son of Prince Frederick Charles, and a cousin of the Emperor, he received the three grades at once, and became a Mason. At his special request, he joined the newest lodge of the Grand National Lodge, Frederick William, at Dawn of Day, which was founded when that Prince, the late Emperor, was initiated in 1854. There were three solemn scenes, as the young Prince passed through the respective stages, with appropriate ceremonies and the prescribed changes of uniform. The Grand Master used two very historical hammers, one that belonged to Frederick the Great, the other to the Emperor William when his son, the late Emperor, was made a Mason. The Master of the lodge expressed thanks to the Emperor for authorizing the Prince to join the order, and explained the significance of its work. A present was given him, for his birthday, of gloves and three roses. The Prince himself said in his first Masonic address, "I have heard such wise and good counsels, and have been received into the bosom of a great body, that it is a pleasure to give thanks for my reception. My noble predecessors, Emperor William I, and Emperor Frederick III., have been received into the bosom of this great body. The participation of the Royal House of Prussia and Germany in the Masonic Order is for me a great honor. It gives me a share in the wonderful history of the nation and secures for it the respect, confidence and esteem of the people that honor their Emperor and their true rulers of men and worthy to be their leaders."

THINK OF THE RESURRECTION.

Widower (pathetically).—Mrs. Catchew, I love you dearly. Can I persuade you to share my lot?

Widow (sweetly).—Well, no, Mr. Tumany! Your lot is not so pleasant as mine. I have been married four times, and you have but four more.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

We have been favoured with a glance at the extract from the Report of Inspector South on his recent visit to the Deseronto High School. As the readers of THE TRIBUNE have been already apprised it is of an encouraging character. We summarise his remarks for the benefit of our readers:—

Accommodations.—All are marked first-class with the exception of desks, the department, of course, preferring that each pupil should have a desk to himself. He has graded the school grounds first-class as it is understood they will be put in proper condition during the summer.

Equipment.—The Library and Apparatus are graded first-class but he recommends that the former be increased to the value of $250 and that an annual sum be provided to improve both.

Attendance.—All the pupils duly attended. Staff.—Legally qualified.

Organization and Discipline.—Satisfactory and first class.

Character of teaching in Different Departments.—Satisfactory as far as examined.

Miscellaneous.—Refers to several matters and suggestions applicable to a new school. General remarks.—The Inspector states that the accommodations of this school are better than those of any other two masters' school and not surpassed by those of any three masters' school. He says that an excellent beginning has been made and both teachers are doing good work. He remarks that the best of the school is to be congratulated on having secured for the headmaster a teacher of Mr. Knight's ability and success.

The Assembly given by the C. C. C. at Empress hotel on Monday evening was a particularly pleasant affair and was attended by a large party of young people. This Club excels in events of this character.

Mrs. E. W. Rathbun was one of the six hundred delegates who attended the meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church which met at the Hamilton on Tuesday. The proceedings were of a very interesting character.

Miss Preston, who has during the past two years given such satisfaction as a successful music teacher, Deseronto, leaves town this week for Belleville where she remains for a few weeks before departing on a prolonged visit to friends in British Columbia.

We direct attention to the advt. of Miss Wartinna in another column. She has imported a very large assortment of trimmings of all varieties, while her stock of hats, bonnets, millinery, etc., contains all the latest styles.

Inspector Seath reports the accommodation and equipment of the Belleville High School as generally poor, and below that of any other school in the city and environs of the province. The sanitary conditions are very unsatisfactory. The general work of the school was good.

It is asserted that many along the bay could attend the Deseronto High School were the steamer "Varuna" to leave Deseronto an hour later in the afternoon on her return trip up the bay. Would it not be well to look into this matter? Interview Capt. Fort with a view to a change of the hour of leaving?

The ladies flocked to Miss Wartinna's rooms all day Saturday to participate in the pleasures of her millinery opening which was eminently satisfactory. Miss Wartinna's display of fashionable millinery was very fine and elicited expressions of admiration from her fair visitors. We direct attention to Miss Wartinna's announcement in another column.

A large force of men have commenced work on the grading of the grounds about the High School. The plan is of the most elaborate character, having been designed by Mr. Hopkins, the well known landscape architect of Oswego. When completed, the grounds will be probably the prettiest connected with any high school in Eastern Ontario.

Mr. C. L. Bass, of Brockville, watchmaker and jeweler, has opened out business in part of Mr. Wm. Stodola's store on Smith block. He asks for a share of public patronage as from a long practical experience in the business he is confident of his ability to give satisfaction. All work entrusted to him will receive prompt and immediate attention.

Mrs. Dalton's millinery rooms were crowded last Saturday and each day this week, with the fair sex who unite in expressing themselves delighted with the display of spring millinery, which was very beautiful.

Mrs. Dalton lately enlarged her rooms, as improvement which tended to greatly enhance her spring opening. She is still receiving visitors.

The weather last Friday morning was followed in the afternoon by a cold wave, with light breezes of the N. E. wind. One of these took the form of a whirlwind on the bay to the north of the city. A new river and lifted a column of water to a considerable height. A flash of lightning was observed to proceed from the storm cloud.

In pursuance of arrangements made by the education department, public school teachers arrived to attend a class in Toronto for one week during the month of August when Prof. H. E. Holt, of Boston, Mass., will give instruction in the best and most successful methods of teaching vocal music. A nominal fee is charged. Students of music will avail themselves of this opportunity.

After the recent dry-kilns fire several sections of hose marked "M. C." were carried by the Niagara Mill fire engine to their own, these monopolists claiming that those letters stood for their backwoods and forward. It turned out, however, that they belonged to the Machine Shops, the expert work of the latter, considering that those were the correct initials to represent that establishment.

The high wind on Wednesday night has completely dissipated the ice in all parts of the river.

Mrs. R. Lloyd lost her pocket book on Monday. It was found by Mrs. Robt. Brooker who promptly returned it to the owner.

It would pay the council to put a strong force of men on the streets at once. Something should be done immediately to the business portion of Main and St. George streets. The mud should be scraped to one side and a good deposit of gravel placed in the centre where the traffic is heavy.

Mr. A. W. Sills, who has been wintering at Deseronto, returned to Deseronto on Tuesday, looking better and stronger as a result of his rustration. He was dubbed "captain" there, probably from his connection with the Ripple.

He again resumes duties on the steamy main as mate on the steamer Deseronto.

The funeral of Mrs. David Alexander, one of the residents of Deseronto, took place last Saturday morning. Rev. R. Craig officiated. Alexander had in her early life been a domestic in the family of the late Mr. Alexander, and was the present Premier of Ontario and Prof. Mowat, of Kingston. Both these distinguished men held her in high esteem, and Dr. Mowat always called to see her when he visited Deseronto.

The funeral of the late Mr. Samuel Anderson, an old and respected resident of Deseronto, took place on Saturday last. The remains, which were followed to the grave by a large concourse of citizens were interred in the cemetery at Deseronto.

Mr. John Dalton, undertaker, conducted the funeral arrangements. Deceased was father of Mr. Robert Anderson, of Deseronto.

Space Annihilator. The following members of the messenger staff are on duty at the general offices: Arthur Morrison, for the General Manager; Frank Sesamith, Telegraphic Dept.; B. O'Rourke, lumber department; Wm. Hill, for Mr. Foster; E. L. Cook, yard department.

A Good Time Coming. Mr. E. W. Rathbun with his usual thoughtful kindness has promised to give the pupils of the Deseronto high school a special excursion at an early day over the N. T. & O. Railway.

The students are all on the qui vive and look forward with pleasurable anticipation to the enjoyment of a very happy time.

Methodist Church. A large congregation was present in the Methodist church last Sabbath for the offering of the excellent service of song presented upon the occasion. Rev. A. Campbell, pastor, and the services were hearty, while the singing evidenced careful preparation on the part of the choir, who acquitted themselves well. Excellent services were given by Miss Wartinna, Caranahan, and Messrs E. Aylworth and Fred. Huff.

A Close Call. On Friday afternoon Miles Stover and Alex. McGee were employed making some repairs on the engine of the Deseronto. Mr. B. Rathbun's residence, when the miniature cyclone struck them. They found themselves in a perilous condition as they were nearly cut off and the engine was only by crawling out as far as possible and lying down flat that they escaped being hurled to the ground.

Building Operations. Building operations have already commenced in this respect. Mr. John Marrigan is building on Green street a two story brick house, with kitchen 10x20.

Wm. Garrigan is building a two story house on the corner of Green and St. George streets. The house will be two stories in height, 22x14, filled in with terra cotta and finished on the outside with bevelled siding. W. H. Vanburen, grocer, is building a shop on the south side of his residence on Prince street, a short distance above the Smith block.

Church of the Redeemer. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in the Church of the Redeemer last Sabbath morning, a large number of communicants being present on the occasion. In the evening a special service of song was given. All present.

"King Forer" was given. The most pleasing and successful service of the kind ever held in this church. The choir, under the direction of the organist, performed their part in a manner deserving of great praise. The soloists, Miss Deana and Miss Bothwick were excellent. The handsome edifice was decorated for the day with a large and beautiful collection of flowers, and foliage plants, and several artistic designs. Rev. R. J. Craig, M. A., officiated at the services of the day.

Citizens' Band Concert. Although the weather was inclement, Union Hall was crowded on the occasion of the Citizens' Band Concert Tuesday evening. Mr. Russell performed the duties of chairman and made an introductory speech, after which he committed the direction of the concert to Mr. A. Macdonald, President of the Band, who during the evening performed his part well and during the interval thanked the patronage for their liberal patronage. After an overture by the Band who during the concert executed themselves admirably. The Woodcock family followed in a trio which commanded an encore, as did an excellent solo by Mr. F. Peel, director of the Band. Mrs. Conroy contributed a vocal solo and Master Andy Butch gave a brilliant exhibition of his skill as a gymnast. The concert was a most successful one and a piano solo by Miss Campbell was well received. Mr. H. Aylworth gave a solo in his harp, "The Woodcock" a comic farce by Messrs. Butch, Naylor and Walker created a storm of amusement. Another excellent overture by the Band was followed by vocal solos by J. P. Coady and H. Fowkes and a chorist duet by F. Peel and R. Huff. The "Comical Nonsense" by the Band, a grand waltz, a duet, infinite amusement, and a rapid applause. Miss Minnie Davis's exhibition of club swinging, to the music of the Band was a very pleasing feature of the entertainment. The whole concluded with a farce by the Butch, Naylor and Walker Company which brought down the house.

Deseronto Branch, C. M. & A. Deseronto Branch, No. 86, C. M. & A., continues to prosper and receives constant accessions to the membership. Bro. E. J. Edwards will represent the Council at the meeting of the Grand Council which assemblies at Montreal on Sept. 2nd.

Next Tuesday's Entertainment. The entertainment in Union Hall on Tuesday evening, 15th inst., promises to be a very pleasing event. It is under the auspices of the Presbyterian Sunday School and the proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of a new organ for the school. A good programme has been arranged. There will be a number of very pretty tableaux. The children will give a number of beautiful kindergarten songs and several vocalists will give solos, quartettes, instrumental selections, etc., etc. Admission, 15 cents.

On Wednesday evening, provisions to his departure south, Mr. B. W. Washburn was presented by the men in the cedar mill with a gold ring, smoking cap, cigar holder, case of cigars and a copy of "Good Words" as a token of their esteem. Mr. Washburn, Supt. of the mill, read the address and made the presentation. Mr. Washburn made a suitable reply. The whole affair was well conducted, and showed the good relations which had existed between Mr. Washburn and his mill friends.

For the Orange Grove. Mr. R. W. Washburn, who has for the past six years filled the responsible position of head tier, etc., in the Cedar Mill of the Deseronto Company, left yesterday for Pictou, Nova Scotia, where he has accepted the position of manager of a mill establishment at a lucrative salary. Mr. Washburn was a capable foreman, gave complete satisfaction to his employers from whom he has received flattering testimonials. He also proved himself a good citizen and is followed to the land of the north by the wishes of a large circle of friends who will be glad to learn of his future success. His last night at Deseronto was a most successful one and he will proceed south next autumn.

Navigation is now regularly opened. On Tuesday the Rescue went up to Belleville and the Deseronto to Pictou. On Wednesday the Reliance with the schr. Pictou in tow, and both loaded with ice, started for Charlotte. The Resolute cleared last night for Charlotte with the Pictou in tow, both loaded with ice and lumber. The Deseronto went over to Pictou last night, and commenced work there. On Wednesday the Pictou to-day. The Pictou, Capt. Berthel, cleared for Pictou on Wednesday with lumber. Several trading schooners have passed down the bay for other ports.

Flowers of all kinds. On Wednesday afternoon our reporter paid a visit to the conservatory of Mr. Herbert B. Rathbun and was shown around that interesting establishment by Mr. Wm. J. Mitchell, head gardener. It is unnecessary to state that he was much impressed by the rich display of rare and beautiful flowers which met his gaze. It is doubtful if it can be excelled in this district. All the plants looked exceedingly healthy and in prime condition, giving evidence that Mr. Mitchell is a capable and experienced florist. The display of geraniums, coleus, fuchsias, etc., is large and beautiful. Mr. Mitchell has set out a large number of roses and intends to raise roses on a large scale. He is local agent of the Dingee & Conrad Co. of West Grove, Pa., who have a considerable reputation as florists. Among other rare flowers seen are a number of sensitive plants. A large number of flowers have been ordered and sold this spring. Long distances to purchase. In the conservatory the vines are showing signs of life. Mr. Mitchell has a very fine quantity of callianders, cabbage, celery, tomatoes, lettuce already well forward, and sweet corn, cucumbers and melons are also coming on nicely. He intends to raise the country by the use of these on the market next year. There is a growing taste for beautiful flowers among all classes, and all who are interested are gratified by a visit to this conservatory.

A very pleasing programme next Tuesday evening. Admission 15 cents.

Mr. Thomas Doyle has left for Deseronto where he has entered the employment of Mr. T. Butler.

A ripple on the water extends to a large circle and little ripples in family and social circles sometimes cause much ado and even excitement. We hear rumors of a wedding that is to be, but whether it is going to come off or not we cannot say, the future is long will tell the tale. If it should come off we hope a piece of bridecake will not be forgotten.

Mr. Charles Bennett and family moved to the Griffin farm this week.

Mr. Archibald McCullough intends erecting a new frame house this spring.

Mr. Thomas Murphy has put an addition to his residence on Church Hill.

Mr. Daniel Griffin has not yet started for the west, but is at present visiting his old friends in this neighborhood.

Mr. & Mrs. William Weddington were visiting Mr. McBride last week.

Mr. John Griffin returned to Toronto the last two weeks but they are now fast drying up.

Mr. Fred Sevaniuk of Deseronto, spent Sunday here.

Mr. Asa Albott made 250 lbs. of maple sugar and 50 gallons of syrup this spring.

Mr. James Bradley, of Marysville, recently again visited here and is always welcome.

The many friends of Miss McMichael will regret to hear that she has left for Prince Edward.

Miss Priscilla Lafferty is now teaching at L'Amable, Hastings Co.

Mr. & Mrs. T. D. Drayman have removed to the Braun Farm near Marysville.

TYENDINAGA RESERVE

From Our Own Correspondent.
Owing to the fearful condition of the roads the general council announced for the 9th inst. did not assemble. The vault question is becoming a necessity and will be discussed at a council in the near future.

The Reverend Mr. Anderson returned from Toronto on Friday where he had been to consult a specialist about his throat trouble; he hopes to be benefited by the treatment prescribed, though his recovery may be slow since he cannot take the entire rest recommended.

Mr. Thomas Easterbrook, churchwarden of St. James Church, Tuesday, spent Sunday with his old friends at the Parsonage.

The body of the infant daughter of Moses Maracle was brought from Pictou on Saturday for interment in Christ Church Cemetery.

The newly appointed officers of the Reserve fell into line on Sunday last. The wardens of the church, Mr. David Jones, Jr., and Mr. Joseph S. Brant.

Johnny Green has left Deseronto and moved to the extreme west end of the Reserve. We predict his early return to the employment which he has followed for many years, river driving.

Sam Claus has taken a house in town where he hopes to find employment during the summer.

The visit of the new fence at the west side of Christ Church cemetery has been painted white and the well wire green giving it a neat appearance.

The visit of Chief Gunyon to the suburb known as Black Foot avenue, has had a soothing effect upon the rowdiness which prevailed in that locality for some time.

Dora Doreen left the Reserve owing to the illness of her mother, Mrs. Doreen, who was nearly one hundred years of age.

Miss Susan Maracle displayed much artistic skill in the extreme west end of the Reserve, which he wore for the first time on Easter day.

The long pending ferry question is still unsettled. We expect the arbitrators will be entitled to Knightwood when they arrive at an award.

Sam Hill is improving the ferry lot which he purchased from Hunt; and is now having a road opened at the north end of the premises.

MARYSVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Miss Maggie McLennan is visiting at Trenton.

Mr. Thos. McGee has just buying barley at the station for the season.

Mr. D. J. Donaghy and wife, left recently for Big Rapids, Mich., where they will reside permanently in future.

Mr. J. J. Taylor, recently, at the home of Mr. Garrison, of Cherry Valley, is bringing large quantities of goods to the city to New York, and to New England points.

We begin at this point as soon as the ground is dry.

Mr. M. Cunningham, has removed to a farm at St. Michaels, St. Michael's, now on the road to Marysville, having declined upon the soil for a time at least, has moved on to his own farm.

SHANNONVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mr. Henry Taylor, of Belleville, spent Sunday last at our village.

Mrs. Duddy, late of Toronto, is spending a few weeks with her father, Mr. J. Lovelace, before joining her husband in Michigan where they intend making their home.

Miss Lena Earle, who has been at her father's, Mr. N. Earle's, for the past few weeks, few weeks returned to her home in Roslin last week.

Mr. H. Myers is visiting his son Mr. Harry Myers in Toronto.

Miss S. Knapp, of Kingston, is visiting her cousin, Miss Clara Davidson, of the Allerton house, near the city.

Reverend services are being held in the Methodist church in Shannonville, being conducted by Rev. J. M. Bates, Evangelist, and Rev. E. D. Lewis, pastor of the Church.

SOLMSVILLE.

From An Occasional Correspondent.
Mr. Henry Black rented the farm of Mr. John Benson for the term of one year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cronk spent Sunday last in Pictou.

Marcus R. Way left again for Chicago last Saturday.

Mr. Jacob Cronk and daughter, of Pictou, were the guests of Mr. A. Brooks and Jacob Foster last week.

Martin Foster, of Belleville Business College, spent last Sunday at home.

Miss Annie Way passed away on Thursday evening, 3rd inst., the funeral being held on Easter Sunday. It was largely attended by people from all sections, who thus desired to show their esteem and respect. The deceased endured much suffering during her long and tedious illness, and her death was surely but a happy release for her, though a grievous trial to her friends.

Mr. Grant Nixon left for Toronto Tuesday last, where he has secured a situation.

Miss Jennie Fraser spent Easter holidays at home in Pictou.

A meeting was held in Northport last Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a branch of the P. F. I. of E. L. Society, Fidelity and Integrity.

AN INTERESTING EVENT AT ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH, MILFORD.

On Wednesday Rev. Robert Atkinson, incumbent of Marysburg, was married to Miss Ada R. Dingman, eldest daughter of the late Garrett Dingman, Maple Farm, St. Marysburg. The interesting ceremony took place in St. Philip's church, Milford, at 10 o'clock.

The bride wore an ivory white plush dress with train and white flowers, and was attended by her little sister, Miss Dingman, dressed in pale pink satin dress trimmed with white ribbon. Mr. Maybree, of Milford, attended as groomsmen, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Dingman. A very large concourse of people assembled at the church, prettily decorated for the occasion. The holy communion was administered to the newly married couple, after which a number of relatives and friends assembled at Maple Farm, where a recheche dinner was served, after which a gentleman and his bride took their departure on route for Ottawa. The bride's presents were numerous and costly, amongst which was a very valuable antique silver dinner service, the gift of the bride's brother, Mr. Dingman. Rev. Mr. Atkinson has accepted the incumbency of North Gore.—Whig.

THE MARMORA MURDER.

Belleville, April 14.—The trial of Peter Davis for the murder of Wm. Emory in the township of Marmora on September 19th last, and of Mary Emory, wife of the murdered man, as an accessory, was begun at the assizes before Chief Justice Armour this morning. Emory, who was a farmer and lived in Marmora township, left his home on Thursday, September 19th, and went to marsh about three miles distant to cut hay, taking with him a rifle and a ax. He did not return that night, and the following day he was found dead where he had been working, shot through the heart. His rifle was about six feet from his body, standing upright, the muzzle having been turned into the soil to a depth of five or six feet. The grand jury, who were in the medical testimony showed that it could not have been a case of suicide. The evidence developed the fact that an improper intimacy had existed between the murdered man's wife and one Peter Davis, and that there had been bad blood between the men and an exchange of threats of violence, the coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against Davis, who was committed to goal. The woman, who afterwards came to town with it, is alleged, the object of being near her paramour, went to her father's house, a few days ago, and was there arrested as an accessory. This arrest was caused by Provincial Detective Greer, who had been working on the case for about ten days. The grand jury returned a verdict against the prisoners on Saturday. Messrs S. B. Burdette, C. C. M. P., and R. C. M. P. were counsel for the prisoners, and Mr. W. R. Riddell, L.L.B., was conducting the prosecution. There are 41 witnesses for the Crown.

The most damaging testimony so far was that of Mary Jane McGarvey, a sister of the female prisoner, who testified that Davis said that there was but one woman in the world that he wanted, and that was Mary Emory, and that he would have her within a year in spite of her husband, whose blood he would shed for her. He also testified that Davis said that he had seen Davis and his sister acting like lovers infatuated with each other.

Two brothers, the woman testified as to the conduct of the prisoners and the threats by Davis. One of the brothers had carried Emory between Davis and Mrs. Emory before the murder, and afterwards she said she thought Davis had shot her husband.

The feeling of the woman towards her fellow-prisoners was evidenced by her testimony. A local constable, who arrested Davis, said he said that if Davis was hanged her heart would be broken, and that she would be hanged herself.

At the inquest the judge pondered the following letter:

Mr. BOSTER I want you to let me have a chance to talk to Peter for a few minutes, I will let me win him on his account, and Mr. Boster, I hope you won't forget me so soon. I cannot stand it much longer. Oh I will let me win him on his account, and I will be so much obliged to you. Oh my heart is broke; I beg of you to let me see him for God's sake.

She said she was signed, MARY.

place. On January 15 she voluntarily stated to Boster that she told Davis that her husband was about her on his account, and that he would shoot him if he ever caught him around. Davis said if he ever saw Emory again, he would shoot him.

Emory shot him if he could, and then he would in time make her his wife. She said, "Peter, don't for your own sake, for I am afraid you will be found out." He said he would not think so, and if so, he would be content to suffer it.

The trial was resumed at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Coroner Sutton, who held the inquest on William Emory, identified the handwriting of the female prisoner.

Jerome Keene, who was that Mrs. Emory said in his hearing that Davis said he would shoot her husband the first chance he had; that she had told him he had better not and that they concluded to live together after a while.

Stephen N. Davis, brother of the male prisoner, testified that prisoner in a case said Emory about eight months ago said Emory had threatened to shoot him, but he would try to get the best of him. This would be done if he could find a way for it.

The case closed the case for the crown. The defence did not call any witnesses.

William Knodel, on behalf of the crown, called a brief but strong address. Mr. Clute, Q.C., spoke for more than two hours on behalf of the prisoners. His Lordship's charge, in which the defence was briefly reviewed, occupied an hour.

The jury retired at 1:50 p.m. and after 37 minutes' deliberation returned a verdict of guilty against Davis. As to Mrs. Emory, they believed she had knowledge before the fact and were sent back to prison as to her guilt. They returned with a verdict of acquittal.

Davis was sentenced to be hanged on June 20th.

CHAPTER III.
TWO OF OLD JUDGE'S VISIONS REALIZED.

"I can prove no such thing."

At midnight Mrs. Armitage was the sole occupant of a room in the second story of the spacious house which Col.

Armitage and his staff occupied. The windows looking out on the same large garden which Oliver Willett had been taken as a spy not long before, were wide open, for the atmosphere was sultry. Mrs. Armitage sat by a table. During an hour she had scarcely stirred from one position. Slowly she came to a clear appreciation of what had happened, and she was waiting, as one strapped to a guillotine might, with awful dread—awaiting the fall of the blade—for her husband to come with the letter that she felt must ere this have been taken from Oliver. The twelve strokes of a clock at midnight sounded to her unreasonably like a knell; and from that she went into a daze of wondering why the bell's familiar noise suggested such an idea to her. As persons in dreams condense hours into seconds, so her thoughts had wandered far and wide before the twelfth stroke; and then, looking up, she saw her husband standing before her.

"That was not like what she expected, and she thought it was a trivial preface for the real matter; but he seemed to expect a reply, and so she said: "How could I sleep?"

"True," he answered, while she listened with every fibre strained to meet an accusation; "the end of tonight has shaken my nerves, and they are stronger than yours."

She took the endorsement with a heartbound, as an indication that somehow the calamity had been averted, and hesitatingly asked, "What—what was the result?"

He explained nothing. It was not possible for him to clear himself. He was caught at the enemy's headquarters on the night before an important movement. Probably he supposed that his acquaintance with you would be a plausible excuse for his presence, and he was brave enough, to take the chance. His bold plan might have been successful had he not carried a paper that condemned him.

"Condemned him?"

"Yes, for although he managed to destroy the paper before anybody read it."

"He destroyed it?"

The careless guards gave him the opportunity. Doubtless it contained memoranda of what he had learned."

Mrs. Armitage understood full well that Oliver had kept his vow to protect her reputation, although in doing so he had destroyed the proof that he was not a spy. In the first warmth of her gratitude she glowed with a blind desire to save him in return. Hence she exclaimed: "The paper contained no such thing."

"How do you know?"

The question brought her to the point of confession, if she intended to make one, but instead she shrank from it.

"Who knows that it did?"

"Well, he refused to deny it when a competent account of the paper's contents might have saved his life."

"Is his life in danger?"

"He has only a few hours to live. He is sentenced to be shot at daybreak."

Once more the woman forgot herself in her appreciation of the sacrifice that had been made for her, and she exclaimed: "Oh, it will be murder! He is not a spy."

mean that a woman's discomfiture is so much better than a man's. I have seen him in his home and have become acquainted with his qualities. He is honorable, brave."

"Those are qualities that would fit him for a mission of peril."

Angered by her arguments (for Oliver being turned against him, she broke out petulantly: "You are heartless."

"You know I am not," said the old man, kind but chiding. "My affection for you, scarcely requited, is proof to the contrary. Were I naturally jealous, your plea for this young man might arouse suspicion in my mind as to your motive."

She crunched down at his side as he took a seat, and put her arms around him in a caressing way that was not common to her. He saw that she was weeping. In spite of an exertion of the will, such as was wont to steady her nerves under any circumstances, she trembled like a coward.

"You love me very dearly. Would it disturb you to know that some other man loved me, too?"

"And that you loved him?"

He said that with a quickness that startled her. She leaned on his knee as she responded: "Why need you come so readily to that supposition?"

"Who is the man?"

"Oliver Willett."

He stood up so hastily that she was prostrated on the floor. He did not help her up, and she arose unaided. This rebuff at the outset of a confession made her waver. She was asked herself why a partial revelation of the facts would not do as well; and, hoping rather than believing that it would, she said: "He made me a proffer of his love. I repulsed him. I told him that he must never see me again. He followed me to my room and asked me to marry him. Then he was arrested. That is the truth, as I live. He is no spy. Now you will save him, will you not? There must be some way of doing it, when you are convinced that he did not come here on the criminal impulse."

"Is that all you wish to say?"

"Is that not enough?" she replied, a little bewildered, and feeling that her determination was melting away.

"You are trying to deceive me. Your motive I do not condemn, but the device fails. Your pity for him has impelled you to a desperate effort to save his life. You have exceeded what duty to your friend required."

"I have told you the truth, as there is a heaven above us."

"Stop!" Could this cold, stern old man be the petting husband she had known? She looked at him in wonder and fear. "You have forgotten one point—the document that he destroyed."

She felt that this was the time and the last to tell all that she had left untold. She raised her eyes to his face and saw that he was iron. Again she resorted to a fragment of the truth.

"That was a letter from me to him commanding him not to seek me."

"If that be so, why should he have destroyed it? There is nothing in such a letter, the hiding of which would be worth a man's life."

She could have met this objection with the little lie that remained unconfessed—that the letter contained her confession of love for Oliver Willett. She had intended to tell that, and to trust to her husband's indulgent love for forgiveness; but now she was convinced that she would not forget the man's fault. She was silent, and ere she knew it, he had quitted the room.

The colonel went at once to the improvised guard house where Oliver Willett was awaiting the execution of the sentence of death. The young man had repeatedly asked himself why he had destroyed the proof that he was not a spy, and as often he vividly remembered his promise to Mrs. Armitage, made in the solemn nature of an oath, that he would secure her reveal the secret of her love. Then the idea would get uppermost in his mind that he was throwing his life away in an unworthy cause. Swayed by these opposing considerations, and oppressed by physical dread, he was at last driven into apathy—something that was beyond his previous agitation, and a relief from it, when Col. Armitage entered.

"Mr. Willett," he said, "you have only a few hours to live, unless you can yet save your errand was not that of a spy."

Oliver guessed that the colonel suspected the truth, and, on the quick impulses of shielding the woman of his worship, he exclaimed: "I cannot do it. I expect to die."

"Have you no desire to live?"

"No man stronger; but I voluntarily took upon myself a solemn obligation, and I must not be a coward because the worst has come of it."

"Yes, you might have had some other errand—that of a lover meeting his sweetheart, for example. Was that it in your case?"

Oliver was certain now that his surmise was correct. He said so conscientiously as any man ever did, "No."

"If it were so, and you could prove it, your life would be spared."

"I can prove no such thing."

"That removes a sorrow from me and ends your fate. Within an hour my wife has told me that you were her lover—that you came to see her, and not as a spy. But she has been deceived."

Believing that she had confessed the whole truth instead of only an ineffectual part of it, Oliver's only sentiment for the instant was pride in his own sacrifice.

The cold left him to himself. An hour later, a muffled woman was in his presence. When she showed her face it was so close that he felt her breath fall hot on his cheek, and it was Mrs. Armitage, who said: "I could not let you die with the thought that I, Mrs. Armitage, had not tried to save you. I told my husband why you came to the city, but he would not believe me. I can assure you to convince him that I told the truth."

It is not always true that men are given in premeditated heroism than when the time of action comes. Oliver said, even then, his interview with Col.

Armitage, wavered from his determination to die possessed of this woman's secret. He had balanced his obligation to her against his family's grief and his own dread of death, and which was weightier he had scarcely been able to determine. But now, under the powerful influence of her presence, and in the knowledge that she appreciated and loved him, he felt settled in his purpose of keeping his vow. He said very quietly: "Your husband has been here."

"And told you what I said?"

"You assured him that it was true? They will believe it, and you will be saved?" She waited with afflict for his answer. She honestly believed that she hoped he would say "Yes," but in her mind was a shadowy, awful fear of what might be the consequences to herself.

"It is too late to alter my purpose if I will," he said, taking her hands in his, and feeling that they were hot and nervous. "Your letter is destroyed. If I were to tell its contents now I would not be believed. I have thought it all over. My life is yours precious to me; but mine or yours must go—for what would be left of yours worth retaining if the world regarded you as a faithless wife? I will die in the flush of a high resolve. You would linger, if I had proved cowardly, in years of death. No; I have kept my oath and your secret."

When Mrs. Armitage was once again in her room, the first ray of light dawned through the window where she sat. Her husband had not returned. The horrible duty of the execution of the court martial's sentence devolved on him, and, although he assigned its details to a staff officer, it added to his other activities of the night and kept him away from her. Soon she heard the beat of a muffled drum, marking the tread of marching feet. Looking out through the shutters, she saw a company of fifty soldiers coming down the street.

In their midst was Oliver Willett.

The first vision of Old Judge was realized. The prophecies of the negro had not been recalled by the distracted woman, but now she felt that Oliver's march to death had been foretold. With a dumb, still sense of despair for her lover, she watched the dreadful procession until it passed beyond her sight and hearing.

"That was it that Old Judge told me!" she exclaimed. "I remember. She saw me riding on horseback toward a wood. She heard me say that I must save him. How I can't conceive a way."

She was in a condition of mind in which quickness was not possible. Her saddle horse was in a stable near by. She did not consider what she meant to do nor hardly realize what she was doing. Old Judge's prophecy impelled her. She hastily dressed herself in her riding habit and reached the stable unobserved. There she saddled and bridled the horse, impetuously mounted him and rode in the direction that the detail of executioners were going, toward the limit of the town, she discerned at a distance the company just entering a grove. Urging her horse into a run, she dashed after her disappearing unit, as a woe, just as the prophetic had, professed to see her do in the second vision.

The Panopero.

A strange natural phenomenon is the panopero, a South American storm wind, which is described by the author of "Hearts of Oak," who first made its acquaintance during a stay at Montevideo. A light breeze had been blowing from the northeast, but had steadily increased in force, and brought with it the heated air of the tropics, which was passing over a treeless panopero country, exposed to the burning sun rays of a clear sky, so warms up the atmosphere on the shores of the Rio de la Plata that its effect upon human beings is exceedingly bad.

This state of things generally lasts for a week, or longer, until the stifling heat becomes unbearable and the inhabitants are seen resting in grass hammocks or lying on bare floors, incapable of exertion. However, relief is close at hand. A little cold wind, which blows from a man's hand is first seen to rise above the water, then the heavens grow black with clouds, and the battle of opposing winds begins.

The panopero advances with its artillery well in front; forked flashes of vivid lightning, followed by peals of thunder, bear down upon the foe, who, quite up to the moment of attack, is fiercely discharging its fiery breath on the surrounding region, which is a scene of confusion on the azoteas, or flat roofs, to which the struggle and to be the first to participate in the delicious relief brought by the panopero to their fevered bodies.

Far out on the river a curious sight may be seen: the opposing waves, raised by the rival winds, meet like a rush of cavalry in wild career; their white horses with foaming crests dash themselves against each other and send clouds of dazzling spray high in the air; this being backed by an inky sky renders the scene most imposing.

Gradually the northeast gives way, followed closely by its enemy, the panopero, which throws out skinning currents of cold wind in advance of its final onslaught. Then comes the roar of the elements, and a deluge such as no one would willingly encounter, and cooler weather is established for the time being.

Almy Gage, wavered from his determination to die possessed of this woman's secret. He had balanced his obligation to her against his family's grief and his own dread of death, and which was weightier he had scarcely been able to determine. But now, under the powerful influence of her presence, and in the knowledge that she appreciated and loved him, he felt settled in his purpose of keeping his vow. Shopkeepers are investing in elaborate awnings this spring, a sure indication of a hot summer.

Evan MacColl, the Celtic bard, departed from Kingston yesterday to make his home in New York.

A large sum has been subscribed for the new club house proposed to be erected by the Deseronto Canoe and Boating Club.

The Brown Manufacturing Company Belleville are doing a rushing business, the men working overtime to fill orders.

The roads in the surrounding country have been most wretched this spring. The hilly portions are reported to be worse than others.

Chicken thieves are operating in the east end. Some of these gentry are known and may yet find themselves in the Central prison.

Another batch of ugly paint-consuming front fences have been taken down during the past week. The front fences will soon be a thing of the past as far as Deseronto is concerned.

The Liberal-Conservative Committee of each polling-subdivision in Thurlow, Tyendinaga and Deseronto will meet at the Intelligencer office, Belleville, on Saturday, 19th inst., at 1 o'clock, p.m.

Mr. A. E. Gracy has a hen which has made herself a record by the number and size of the eggs she lays every season. Recently she cackled over four large eggs measuring 7 1/2x6 1/2, 7 1/2x6 1/2 and 7 1/2x6 1/2 inches.

Mr. Vandervoort, chairman of the Board of Health, writes a well timed letter this week on the necessity of people paying proper attention to their walls. The contents of this thoughtful communication should receive due attention.

A suit of clothes were left hanging out at night recently in front of one of the stores in town. They were found all right next morning. It is not worth while, it seems, to steal clothing when a whole suit can be purchased for three or four dollars.

An ingenious swindle is booming in several counties, which a fountain pen with a double load plays an important part. The pen carries two kinds of ink, one of which will fade, the other will not. The superior quality of a contract are written in the ink which fades, and the farmer's signature with the permanent, and the document finally figures as a note of hand, which is discounted at the nearest bank and the former has to pay.

A Successful Pupit.

Miss Jessie Mackie gained the prize presented by Principal Cole to the pupil in the senior department of the public school who should make the highest marks at the recent Easter examination. The prize was a handsome copy of "The Monastery" by Sir Walter Scott.

Killed at Gananoque.

Jess Seymour, while shovelling shingles off the roof of a warehouse in Gananoque owned by the Rathbun company, fell off, dropping a distance of twenty feet, and striking on his head. He was instantly killed. He was a well-known violin player and a good carman. He leaves a wife and large family.

Old Newspapers.

Mr. James H. McHenry, of Kingsford, while overhauling some packages came across a number of old journals, among others copies of the Weekly Star, of Montreal, dated August and September 1845, and the Evening Star of Dublin, of April 14, 1845. The questions which are at the fore front in the columns of these old journals are much the same as those discussed by Canadian and Irish journals at the present time. The Lungs Sentenced.

Albert, Herman and Geo. Lloyd were brought into court last week to receive sentence for the crime of rape committed by a long period of time in the prison, on Mary Denton, of which they were convicted at the sittings in April, 1889. When they were brought in, they had nothing to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon them, each made an arrest stating that they had been in gaol for a long period of time, and that they were sentenced to be dealt with leniently. George asked that he be sentenced to the same term as Albert, who only asked for one day in gaol. The court sentenced them to one day in gaol. Albert and Herman were sentenced to hard labor for a period of 7 years in the Kingston

The Franchise.

Young men who desire to have their names on the voters' list should call at the office of Mr. John McCullough, assessor, and inform that official who will be only too happy to comply with their request. No one entitled to a vote should neglect this duty.

Clayton in Trouble.

I liked that open-air meeting on the Hay Market, and almost wished for some such meetings in Toronto. A few jarring drunken women and a noisy military band, with various missiles flying around go to make an open-air meeting particularly interesting. I hear the candidates for a little taste of it last Sunday! Thus writes a Salvation Army officer to the War Cry.

A Great Order.

On January first, 1889, there were 852,787 members in the Independent Order of Oddfellows and 688,492 in the Manchester Unity, making a grand total of 1,541,279 members, or fully one-quarter of a million more than reported by the next largest civilized secret society. The invested funds on January 1st, 1888, amounted to $34,023,085. The sick and funeral benefits paid in 1887 were $3,331,164.

Thrown out of Court.

The case of Wesley Bullen vs. McCullough and Gundy came up for trial in Belleville on the 16th inst. In this case Bullen, a Belleville liquor dealer, attempted to recover fine and costs which he claims were illegally imposed upon him. Mrs. Bullen, the defendant, took several preliminary objections with the result that the judge held that the first point raised was fatal to Bullen's case with costs including counsel's fees. The case may be brought on again in another way.

The Varuna.

The steamer Varuna with colors flying and wearing a more saucy appearance than ever called at the dock last Saturday morning on his first trip to Pictou. Capt. Porter, who has equipped himself during the winter with a fresh stock of stories, looked not a day older than when he was frozen in at Trenton last fall. He has given his steamer a complete overhauling, and thoroughly painted her. The wheel has been lowered with the result that she can make even better time than formerly. Reuben Marcross is engineer. The Varuna leaves Deseronto for Pictou at 10:20 a. m.; and for Belleville and Trenton at 2:30 p. m.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Mr. George Burtch has been busy of late preparing to tour the country with his Uncle Tom's Cabin Company. In organizing this company for the season Mr. Burtch has spared no pains or expense in securing the services of the best people in the profession. Among some of the most popular we may mention the following: Miss Lettie Wright, leading lady, now with N. S. Woods "Out in the Street" Company. Howard's Athenaeum, Boston, Miss. Mr. H. P. Bulmer and Mrs. H. P. Bulmer, Chicago; Tony P. Mason, Buffalo; Harry Williams, comedian, Syracuse, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ockerman and Nettie Thompson, of Rochester, and several other excellent artists. The Grand Opera House orchestra, of Toronto, will be with this Company this season, a fact which of itself must prove a great attraction. The band will surpass any ever seen here before. The wagons have been handsomely painted; the canvas is largely new, and the scenery also has been newly painted, so that the outfit is complete and of first class in every respect. Mr. Burtch intends going east this season. He will give his opening performance at North Fredericksburg on May 3rd and will be at Napane on May 5th; Deseronto 6th; and Kingston, 7th.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DESERONTO.

At this season of the year allow me to call your attention to the importance of having your wells and cisterns cleaned. It is a well known fact that cholera, typhoid fever, gastro-intestinal diseases, etc., are traceable to impurities in water. It is a well known fact that cholera, typhoid fever, gastro-intestinal diseases, etc., are traceable to impurities in water. It is a well known fact that cholera, typhoid fever, gastro-intestinal diseases, etc., are traceable to impurities in water.

The Board of Health has the authority to enforce the cleansing of all wells before the 1st of July each year. They can also order the filling in of any well in which there is found poisonous matters which might propagate disease.

Each well should be tightly closed up about the curb to prevent the influx of surface water. It should also be pumped or dipped out, the walls washed down, and the whole disinfected. Closets should be placed as far away as practicable and no decaying animal or vegetable matter should be allowed to remain upon the premises as the well and find an entrance into the well.

As our town is very compact and the soil very fertile, it is very important that every one will see the importance of this announcement.

E. D. VANDEVOORT,
 Chairman, Board of Health.

FARM, FIELD AND GARDEN.

EVERY DAY TOPICS CONSIDERED IN A PLAIN, PRACTICAL MANNER.

The Importance of Diversified Farming Demonstrated—Reasons Why the Fortunes of the Season Ought Not to be Based on One or Two Crops.

Too much stress can scarcely be laid upon the importance of raising a variety of crops, and not basing all upon a favorite one, which, by a failure, caused by an unfavorable season, may occasion a loss that few farmers are able to bear. One of the reasons usually assigned by farmers in favor of their occupation is that, although not a money making one, it is a safe business if properly conducted. It not only affords a good living without the liabilities attending most business callings, but, by slow accumulations, will in time compare favorably in its results with other occupations that are commonly deemed more lucrative. In all sections there are a few hardy crops, adapted to the soil and climate, to which more than ordinary attention may be given, but as a general rule the fortunes of the season should not be based on one or two crops. If corn, wheat, oats and potatoes are the chief staples, there is no probability that the season will be so unfavorable that none will succeed. One or more of these may suffer, while the others are exceedingly well, and thus compensate for a partial deficiency in the whole. Wealthy capitalists in the northwest may hazard all on the success of single crops of wheat, but to the average farmer this matter of safety is an important one that should not be disregarded. He may not handle as much money as one may do in favorable seasons with special crops, but in the end he is in a position to show a much larger profit as the man who grows only one leading crop. Of our grain crops, corn is by far the most trustworthy, and while we may have seasons in which the crop may prove unprofitable, its adaptability to all soils and climates makes it one that no farmer, either north or south, can afford to omit.

Nowhere have the advantages of diversified farming been better demonstrated than in the south. There, as here, cotton will continue to be the money crop; but it has been learned that a successful cotton crop means one whose avails are not to be used up in paying for plantation necessities, but one in which the surplus is being produced. Again, in both north and south, a new species of farming, of which the old agriculturists know little or nothing, has come into vogue, and true farming, as it is called, often yields profits that far exceed those of the staple crops as in many districts to cause most of the latter to be abandoned for market gardening. Indeed, it may be said that the methods of farming successfully have changed so much within a few years as to almost make it a different occupation, and the man who persists in farming the same way his father did twenty years ago has good reason for saying his business does not pay, says the agricultural editor of The New York World, authority for the above.

Beaching Beeswax.
The query, "Which is the best and quickest way to bleach common yellow beeswax?" was recently submitted to leading beekeepers for answer in American Bee Journal.

Durant & Son replied: "Put it in the sun in thin strips, when the sun is not too hot to melt it. Some yellow wax never bleaches."

G. W. Demaree said: "I have given very little attention to the art of bleaching beeswax. My wax, after a few years ago, bleached beeswax by making it in thin cakes and exposing them to the sun and dew."

Mrs. L. Harrison answered: "Make it up in thin sheets and dries it with sun and dew, just as muslin is bleached. A lady at Rahway, N. J., accumulated quite a little fortune at bleaching wax a few years since."

J. E. H. Brown said: "A good plan is to sheet it and then expose the sheets to a strong light."

A. B. Mason advised making the wax in thin sheets, keeping moist and exposing to the hot sun for a few weeks.

The Cheapest Egg Food.
The cheapest egg food in winter and most complete in the proportions of nitrogen, carbon and mineral matter, says the editor of Field and Farm, is a mixture of clover (chopped) and half linseed and a small quantity of bran. The ration supplies bulky food (or an equivalent of green food), promotes digestion and costs less than any other food. It affords a variety, and corn may be given also as a supplement, but though one may attribute all the beneficial effects to corn, yet the amount of food of various kinds picked up by the hens in winter is greater than when supposed, especially if they have access to the barn yard, as they will pick up clover heads, leaves, the blades of corn, fodder and other foods required.

A Dairy Requirement.
A Vermont dairyman thus expresses himself in Rural New Yorker:

"My dairy experience does not extend over a long period, and has consisted principally in changing a 100 pound cow dairy to a 22 pound per cow of milk. I have been getting rid of the 100 pound cows and raising a few of the 22 pounders. The best common cow I have had is the old cow in the herd which was a 22 pounder and still continues to produce milk."

"I have heard of a man who did not like the 22 pounders, and they did not make much milk. I think you are right."

"I have heard of a man who did not like the 22 pounders, and they did not make much milk. I think you are right."

Early hatched chickens bring the best prices and bring in money at a time when you need it.

THE AYRSHIRE COW.

Rapid Development of This Breed Throughout the Dairy Regions of the World. The Ayrshire cow ranks very high as to both the quality and quantity of its produce. A fair average of herds of any fifty cows, not especially selected, runs from 400 to 500 gallons of milk per annum, according to an excellent authority on Milk Land Express, which furnishes an interesting account of the recent development of this breed.

The Ayrshire cow generally shows 13 per cent. of solids, 10 to 10 per cent. of cream, and 34 to 41 per cent. of butter fat. In the milking competitions of the London dairy show and the Scotchland show, other Ayrshire dairies have stepped far ahead of the Shorthorns, Guernseys, etc., in the quantity and quality of the milk which they yielded.

The milk of the Ayrshire is pre-eminently suited for cheese making. All samples of milk under the microscope are seen to be composed of a homogeneous fluid, in which float little globules of butter fat, which makes the milk comparatively large, in the Ayrshire they are small and not rising quickly, but, mixing with the curd butter, make an evenly rich cheese. The quantity of cheese yielded by such a cow is about six hundredweight, and the quantity of butter about twenty-four pounds per week.

As to the butter yielding, the Ayrshire milk shows about 4 to 4 1/2 per cent. of butter fat, while selected animals come up to, if they do not exceed, the Jersey. The average yield, so far as records go, is about 100 pounds of butter per annum. The writer has had recently tested a 4-year-old Ayrshire cow, which is yielding fifteen pounds of butter per week.

It is customary with some breeders of cattle to speak disparagingly of the Ayrshire from a butcher's point of view. We venture, however, to maintain that all of the races of milk producing animals, the best and most profitably raised, are generally from the Ayrshire.

The development of this breed within the past fifty years has been very marked and rapid. The Ayrshire cow is fast superseding other dairy races in England. She gives immense dairy farms in Holland; has crossed the wide Atlantic, and feeds along the northern as well as the southern shores of the river St. Lawrence and exists beneath the shadows of the Rocky mountains. Possessed of the highest intelligence, she is a good breeder of cattle, she has lately been extensively imported to the stormy regions of Russia, and at present she is unquestionably the favored dairy animal of Australia and New Zealand.

Facts Worth Noting.
Plenty of whitewash should be used, not only for the brighter appearance, but also as a disinfectant. Hot whitewash is the best, and should be used on the walls and pig quarters with aid in preventing vermin and insects.

The Rolfe apple, a month later than the Greenheart, is highly recommended by Maine pomologists.

To have a gentle cow it is well to begin handling her when she is a calf. Especially is kind and careful treatment necessary when a cow has her first calf. A lady had contracted at that time will be hard to break up.

In buying fertilizers there is now but little danger of being deceived in their composition. The numerous analyses of the various brands on the market, made by the state experiment stations exhibit their constituents and serve as a protection to both manufacturers and purchasers.

How It Was Explained.
An irascible old gentleman shuffled down four flights of stairs in the Colorado Hotel, and entered a room on the second floor. He eyed the clerk, who was engaged in a catch-as-catch-can bout and his whole frame shook with rage. The old gentleman, in a moment, turned and operator of Denver. He seized a handful of footprints from the desk and scattered them on the floor. Back of the desk stood Mr. Clerk Rooney perusing a hymn book.

"I say," shouted the Denver man, "Something's the matter on the fifth floor! Somebody up there is raising Cain; coughing, wheezing, ringing bells, buzzing machinery and making me up at 8 o'clock!"

Mr. Rooney put a poker chip in the hymn book to retain his place, and from force of habit called out:

"Front!"

"Don't want 'no bellboy," continued the Denver man. "What I want is satisfaction, sir."

"Ah, yes," replied the clerk, waving the bellboy into the perspective. "I'm very sorry," he continued, "but we must try to bear with this disturbance."

"Gimme a clue!"

"Ah, sir, the man who disturbed you is not to blame. He is here under the care of a physician. In 1876, when a small boy, swallowed a fire alarm, and every time he coughs this cough is like a fourth of July celebration. He has undergone eighteen surgical operations, and this last is successful. The doctor has just left with the fire alarm and the patient is being cared for."

"By whom?"

"By an undertaker, sir."

The Denver man leaned against a pillar and mumbled: "I wish I was an angel!"

MORSES' FEET.

Claims Made by an Experienced Shoer. An experienced shoer claims, in the New York Tribune, that most ill shaped feet were so the first time the horse was taken to the shop. Several in his shop have been taken to him, and he has never seen an imperfect foot on one of them. Cattle are born with perfect feet. Nature intended the horse to run, and if they did, their hoofs would wear away evenly, but, instead, they are kept indoors five months of the year; the hoofs become soft and break off in pieces from time to time.

If a considerable piece breaks off at the side the foot runs over like an old boot, and the cow acquires the habit of walking partially on the side of the foot, which is very difficult to remedy. Sometimes both sides break off, leaving the too unnaturally long, thus throwing more weight on the heels, causing the feet to wear faster than they should. This produces flat feet. The uneven breaking off of the hoof before the animal matures causes most of the imperfect feet in the feet of the horse, with resultant ringbones, spavins, curbs and other ailments. When a horse with a bad foot comes to be shod, if it is at the side, it should be leveled up, gradually by several shavings, causing the foot to be thicker on one side, and paring down the hoof a little the most on the opposite side.

If the foot is flat the heel should be left alone and the foot cut as far back as the sole of the foot, leaving the sole of the foot, but not the wall alone. If the sole is low down and presents a convex surface, as is often the case, the shoe should be either in the center, to match, or very narrow to fit only on the horny shell. If the animal has contracted feet the heels should be cut away all it will do, as well as the horn on the bottom of the foot, and the shoes should be bedded with soft material for the feet, so the feet may have a tendency to spread.

If the animal has ringbone or any stiffness in the joint the shoe should be cut back. This rule applies also to cases of spavin, thrush, galls, etc. Bad feet in horses are generally traceable to inattention by man. The feet of colts should be attended to once in three months, from the time they are first shod in the fall until they reach maturity. The feet of mares should be attended to once in three months, from the time they are first shod in the fall until they reach maturity. The feet of mares should be attended to once in three months, from the time they are first shod in the fall until they reach maturity.

Orchard Grass.
Orchard grass is particularly well adapted to shaded lands, and when once fairly established, is permanent in its character and does not run out, as many other grasses do. It withstands drought well and is not easily winter killed. It is not, however, an obstinate stayer like the couch grass, and gives no trouble in cutting and mowing. It is a good feed for cattle, and is generally traceable to inattention by man. The feet of colts should be attended to once in three months, from the time they are first shod in the fall until they reach maturity.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., November 18, 1888.

Dr. R. J. Kendall, Col., writes: "I have cured two horses of spavin by your method. I think it is the best I have ever used. I have used it on many other cases of spavin, and it has cured them all."

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels, which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these pills. Through the energetic and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctor could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Mass.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been used in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."

W. B. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

For several years I have relied upon Ayer's Pills than anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do the work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and other ailments.

I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very safe, but also pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valuable by the public. Jules Hauck, Perfumier, Philadelphia, Pa.

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1890.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The assessor's roll is returnable on the first of May.

The Rathbun Company paid out $12,000 last week to their jobbers in Montreal.

Large quantities of old iron are being shipped every day to the foundry at Picton.

Ball was secured for Wm. Aroett, whose trial on the charge of manslaughter was postponed at the assizes.

The post-offices of Balfour, Prince Edward county, and Denale's Corner, North Lanark, have been re-opened.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, inspector of weights and measures, is laid up with an attack of pleurisy at his home in Belleville.

By order of Chief Justice Armour, Peter Davis, the condemned murderer at Belleville, is watched day and night by special warders.

Mr. T. D. Craig, M. P. P. for East Durham, has moved with his family to the United States where he will in future make his home.

A team of horses belonging to Mr. B. McGinness, of Tyndinaga, ran away on Saturday morning and were caught at the railway station.

John E. Cowden, said to be the oldest Oddfellow in the United States, died at his home in Amesbury, Mass., aged 92. He joined the order in Philadelphia in 1831.

It is said that the names submitted to Rome, as suitable to fill the bishopric of Cornwall are: Vicar-General Macdonnell, Rev. Dean Gauthier, and Rev. Fr. Twomey.

Mr. James Gordon, of Lonsdale, severely sprained his ankle last week. He was harnessing his horse and stepped over to pick up the lines when he tripped over the trace.

Messrs. W. A. Macleod and J. F. Stokes have been appointed members of the executive committee of the Knapex Cricket Club which has been reorganized for the season.

Two hot headed youths had a fist encounter near the Flour Mills the other day. A ring was formed and the Marquis of Queensberry rules were observed. The referee declared it a draw.

Work on the steamboat dock has been completed. The front of the warehouse has been repainted and painted. New doors which roll up like those in the locomotive shops have been placed in position.

While the stone crossings are preferable on the score of permanent solidity, the wide flags are rather dangerous for horses which often slip while passing over them. Two rows of narrow flags with rubble between would be preferable.

Ten little children from Chatterton public school defeated ten pupils of the Stirling high school in a spelling match. In a written match between the same rivals the Stirling pupils made thirty-four errors and Chatterton only two.

Mr. P. O'Connor has purchased a very promising trotter, a four year old brown gelding. If all that we hear is true owners of other fast horses must be prepared to lower their former records or come in at the tail of the procession.

Mr. C. Macdonald's dog "Barney" which is nine years old and noted for its sagacity has been quite a traveller in its day, having with his master traversed nearly all parts of the United States and Canada, and been down also in Mexico, etc.

The Ontario government have appointed Principal John Miller, of St. Thomas College, as Justice, Deputy Minister of Education to succeed the late Alex. MacIntyre. J. R. Cartwright is to be deputy attorney-general and A. M. Dymond, law clerk of the Legislature.

Mr. Robert Anderson, St. Thomas street, has placed on our desk an egg laid by one of his hens. It is a fine sample, measuring 8 1/2 inches. This is the largest egg shown at the Fair office this season. Last week to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The new German repeating rifle is a powerful weapon. It has a range of 15,300 feet. At a distance of 325 ft. its bullet will penetrate close grained wood to a depth of five feet and at a distance of 2,700 feet fourteen inches and at a distance of 5,900 feet, considerably over a mile, four inches. Six men in a column, each seven paces from the man before him, may even shoot through with one bullet. It will penetrate with ease brick walls a brick and a half thick, and pass through a big tree as if it was paper.

Double Track.

About four hundred men are engaged on the Grand Trunk double track between Belleville and Gananoque. Operations are in progress on the rock cuttings at Milltown, Shannonville, Napanee, Collins Bay, Kingston Mills and Gananoque Junction. Work has also been commenced on the dirt cuts between Belleville and Milltown.

Notice.

In Deseronto as elsewhere the law in reference to the registration of births, marriages and deaths is treated as a dead letter. As forbearance has long ceased to be a virtue, the department has decided to prosecute all delinquents. As half of the births in Deseronto have not been registered since January last, all interested will save themselves heavy costs by attending to this duty forthwith.

Fish Nets Prohibited.

Fish Inspector Chas. Wilkins received instructions from the department at Ottawa authorizing him to prohibit the use of nets in the bay. Permits were issued last year but the department has decided to stop the use of them entirely. Owners of the fish markets state that the order, if carried out, will paralyze their business as enough fish cannot be caught by hook and line to supply their trade. —Ontario.

English Harlots.

The government, for convenience of prompt distribution, has placed a few cars of prize prodigal two-rowed barley, just arrived from England, with The Steele Bros. Company of Toronto, who are prepared to ship promptly, freight prepaid, to all who remit to them $4 per bag. Each bag contains 112 pounds, and purchasers can obtain any number of bags required. Address "The Steele Bros. Co., Toronto." —Mail, April 17th.

Died of His Injuries.

G. F. Saxsmith, Richmond, seriously injured on Wednesday 16th, in Napanee, in a runaway accident, died Friday morning. He never became thoroughly conscious. On Wednesday night the doctor raised the lids of his eyes when he recognized his wife, and on Thursday his son spoke to him when he answered by calling him by his name. After the accident he was carried to the Briscoe house. His wife, down the street making purchases, hastened to the hotel. Her grief was unbounded for she had just left him a few minutes before he was to get the horses.

Grand Jury Report.

The grand jury at the recent assizes in their presentment stated that they found 22 prisoners—19 male and 3 female—in the county jail; everything satisfactory and the prisoners classified; a comfortable dwelling house had been provided for the jailer, and they believed there was no better conducted jail in Canada. They praised the management of the deaf and dumb institute, and were favourably impressed with the hospital and home for the friendless. They regretted that so many serious offences had come before them for investigation and trusted the epidemic of crime was a thing of the past.

Police Circles.

It will be remembered that some time in February Riley Lloyd and Chas. Jones raided the cellar and pantry of the Briscoe House, Napanee, carrying off a large quantity of stuff. The two worthies cleared out and though the police were on the lookout for them nothing was seen of either of them until on Monday last, when Lloyd dropped into town and into Chief Guyon's arms at the same time. The Chief wired to Chief Bell, of Napanee, who took Lloyd down to Napanee where he awaits trial. On Tuesday Chief Guyon arrested Joseph Beaupre, a young man, who was drunk and disorderly. The prisoner appeared next morning before the Keefe who was moved by his penitent appearance to let him go with a caution.

A Word to Churches, etc.

Churches, societies, etc., will please remember that the Citizens' Band is ever ready to give its service free at all evening entertainments held under the auspices of the different churches and charitable institutions, provided that ample notice is given and that these entertainments are held on the practice evenings of the Band, and that they do not clash with other entertainments which the Band may have in view. The regular practice meetings of the Band are held on Tuesday and Friday evenings. When entertainments are held on other evenings than these it is obvious that in order to attend an entertainment the members of the band can only be present at an inconsiderable amount of sacrifice of time, etc.

Methodist Sabbath School Concert.

On Thursday evening, May 1st, the Methodist Sabbath School will hold their third annual concert in the Church. The children, who will furnish the programme, are being thoroughly trained by competent persons, and though their previous entertainments have been excellent this will surpass any heretofore given. The programme will consist of singing by the school, kinder garden songs by a host of infant scholars, recitations, dialogues, calisthenics, etc. Twenty dollars of the proceeds will be taken to make the annual payment on subscription for rebuilding of Church and it is hoped enough will remain to fund the church lawn. Admission—five cents for children under twelve years of age; all others 10 cents. This is the children's concert. They will call to sell you tickets. Buy and make them happy. Attend their concert and you will be delighted with the proceedings.

A Letter from Mexico.

Mr. Walden Hoplias, writing from the city of Mexico to his brother, Mr. L. Hoplias, of this place, states that he is enjoying excellent health since his arrival in that famous capital, and that he finds much to interest him in the peculiar habits of the people. He states that Mexico is not advanced in anything, that, in fact, it is only a step ahead of the United States. Everything smacks of primitive days and it will be some time before advancing civilization and its advantages will be fully realized. The natives, in many parts of the country, still break the ground, if they do it at all, with wooden plows, having one handle and drawn by stock or man. Laundry work is done on stones, that is the cleaning part of it. Cooking is accomplished on large brick fire places having holes cut in the brick in which is inserted the pots and other utensils being set over the holes. The city is a gay place, nevertheless, the better class of people enjoying the pleasures of themselves by driving, riding, promenading, shooting, etc., but the advantages of higher education, and the arts and sciences are lacking. Mr. Hoplias had been out the day before he wrote on a fiery Mexican pony; he thought he would invest in a horse which would cost him $200 a year to keep, but the pleasure of morning out, and the benefits which would accrue to his health would more than compensate him for the expenditure. It is not improbable that THE TRIBUNE and other Canadian papers may be favoured with some contributions from Mr. Hoplias concerning that interesting country.

Nice story books at THE TRIBUNE office.

AN ENTERPRISING COW.

ACTON, April 21.—Mr. John Warren, of this neighborhood, is the owner of a Durham grade cow which gave birth, on the 16th inst., to two calves one a Durham grade and the other a Jersey grade. The cow is seven years old, and these make sixteen calves, having had the first in 1876. She has now her third pair of horns, having broken the other two pair fighting with other cattle. She was milked, fed and cared for in 1876 by Col. A. H. Warren, now of The Nebraska State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

CARD.

The members of the Citizens' Musical Association had desire to express their gratitude to the people of Deseronto for their generous patronage on the occasion of their recent entertainment. They also wish particularly to thank the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly and successfully assisted in filling the numbers on the programme. C. MACDONALD, President, S. CRONK, Secretary, Deseronto, April 19, 1890.
